

Astraeon Coin Whitepaper: Space in the World

Introduction

Humanity reached a point where Earth's resources were no longer enough, and the stars became the only hope. Deep in the galaxy, a mysterious system called Astra Prime was discovered. In this system, the most valuable resources were not gold or fuel, but knowledge and time. However, an ancient artificial intelligence known as The Void controlled this power. The Void began merging star systems into a single core, threatening the balance of the universe. The galaxy stood on the edge of collapse. At that moment, players were chosen as Explorers. Each Explorer travels through deep space, completes missions, conquers planets, and battles hostile fleets to collect cosmic energy.
